WILMINGTON PLANS ENTERTAINMENT FOR STATE VETERANS

Thousand Expected to Attend Annual Reunion—New United States Engineer Comes to District—City Employs Alabama Man as Engineer—Tax Rate Remains Same.

Special to Telegram.
Wilmington, May 26.—With an unusually large attendance of members of the local lodges and several visitors, the annual banquet of St. John's Lodge, No. 1, A. F. & A. M., was held last night in the banquet hall of the Masonic Temple. The speaker of the occasion was Col. Wm. F. Robertson, of Charlotte. He was introduced by the master of ceremonies, Edward P. Bailey, the worshipful master. Short talks were made by Rev. R. W. Springer, chaplain at Fort Caswell; Rev. J. S. Crowley, of this city; and Ed. C. Taylor, of Southport.

Arrangements for the annual reunion of the veterans of North Carolina, which will be held here this summer, are now being made by a committee of the local camp of veterans. A meeting of the committee was held this afternoon at which plans were outlined. The meeting will very probably be attended by a thousand or more veterans from all parts of the State.

Capt. Earl I. Brown, United States engineer in charge of the Wilmington district for the past four years, the usual period an engineer is allowed to stay in one district, has been notified that he is to be transferred to the Galveston, Texas, district, and will leave for his new duties as soon as his successor, Capt. Horton W. Stickle, arrives from Panama, where he is now doing duty with the Isthmian Canal Commission. While in charge of this district Capt. Brown has undertaken and completed a number of works, the principal one being that of the Inland Waterway from New river to Beaufort harbor, this being the first link of the proposed intra-coastal waterway, the survey of which has been in progress for the past two years. This link was opened to traffic some months ago. During the time Capt. Brown has been in the district the number of improvements has almost doubled, there being now under improvement in this district: The Cape Fear river, above and below Wilmington, the Necks and dams in the Cape Fear river, Northeast, Black, Neuse, Trent, Pamlico, Tar, New and Scuppernon rivers, Swift, Fishing and Contentment creeks, Beaufort harbor, Shallowbag bay, South river, Bay river, Swan Quarter Bay, Beaufort Inlet, etc. Maj. Geo. R. Howell, whom Capt. Brown succeeds at Galveston, goes to Charleston, S. C. He is a native of Goldsboro, N. C., and an alumnus of the University of North Carolina as well as of West Point.

F. L. Pillet, of Mobile, Ala., has been elected city engineer at a salary of $2,400 a year. He was elected by the council over some five or six local engineers who had made application for the position. Mr. Pillet is expected to report for duty about June 1. He will have plenty of work to keep him busy. The city voted $400,000 bonds for street improvements some time ago and this work has not yet been undertaken and in addition a new sewerage system is to be installed.

The Council has decided to let the ad valorem tax remain the same as last year, $1.30 per hundred dollars valuation, but there has been an increase in some of the items, which come under the head of special license or privilege tax.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE VISITED ROSEBORO

Special to Telegram.
Fayetteville, May 26.—A disastrous fire occurred today at Roseboro, a prosperous town on the Atlantic and Yadkin Valley Railway between Fayetteville and Wilmington. Six stores and two dwellings were burned, including the telephone exchange. There was very little insurance carried by the owners of the property destroyed.

CITY WILL DECORATE FOR COMMERCIAL MEN

City Hall Will Fly Bunting in Honor of United Commercial Travelers—Commissioners Asked to Make Contracts For Water And Sewer Lines.

At yesterday afternoon's meeting of the Board of Commissioners it was announced by Commissioner Brown that the merchants and other business firms of the city were going to decorate on next Friday and Saturday this being the occasion of the annual convention of the United Commercial Travelers of the Carolinas, so he thought it would be good taste if the city would do likewise as the convention would be of more than usual note. The other commissioners thought that this should be done and Commissioner Brown was instructed to have the necessary bunting put up so the city hall would show up in fine style before the marching travelers.

A number of matters were discussed at length. Commissioner J. P. Turner presented a bill for $51.50 due him for examining applicants for license to drive motor vehicles. As some three or four have not yet been collected from action was postponed for a few days so the delinquents could be seen. According to Dr. Turner's figures there are in the city 123 licensed chauffeurs. Only one applicant was turned down by the commissioner.

R. M. Phillips, representing the Daily News, appeared before the board to protest against the granting of a poolroom license to negroes, the poolroom to be located near the corner of Davie and Market streets. Mr. Phillips stated that the conditions at present were almost unbearable and he believed if the poolroom was allowed that no white people could remain in the vicinity.

A. M. Scales, representing R. C. Hood and others, presented a contract to be made with the city for water and sewer lines out North Elm street from Park avenue to the city limits, the property owners to advance the money and the city to refund the amount during the year. This contract was drawn as a result of an agreement reached at a meeting of the commissioner several days ago.

Mr. Scales also submitted a proposition for the city to allow the Country Club to lay water lines from the limits to the club, also make a connection with the sewer line that runs near the club property. The matter will be looked into by the commissioners before any action is taken.

A petition was received from property owners on Bain street, asking for curbing.

PARIS TO MADRID RACE WON BY A FRENCH AVIATOR

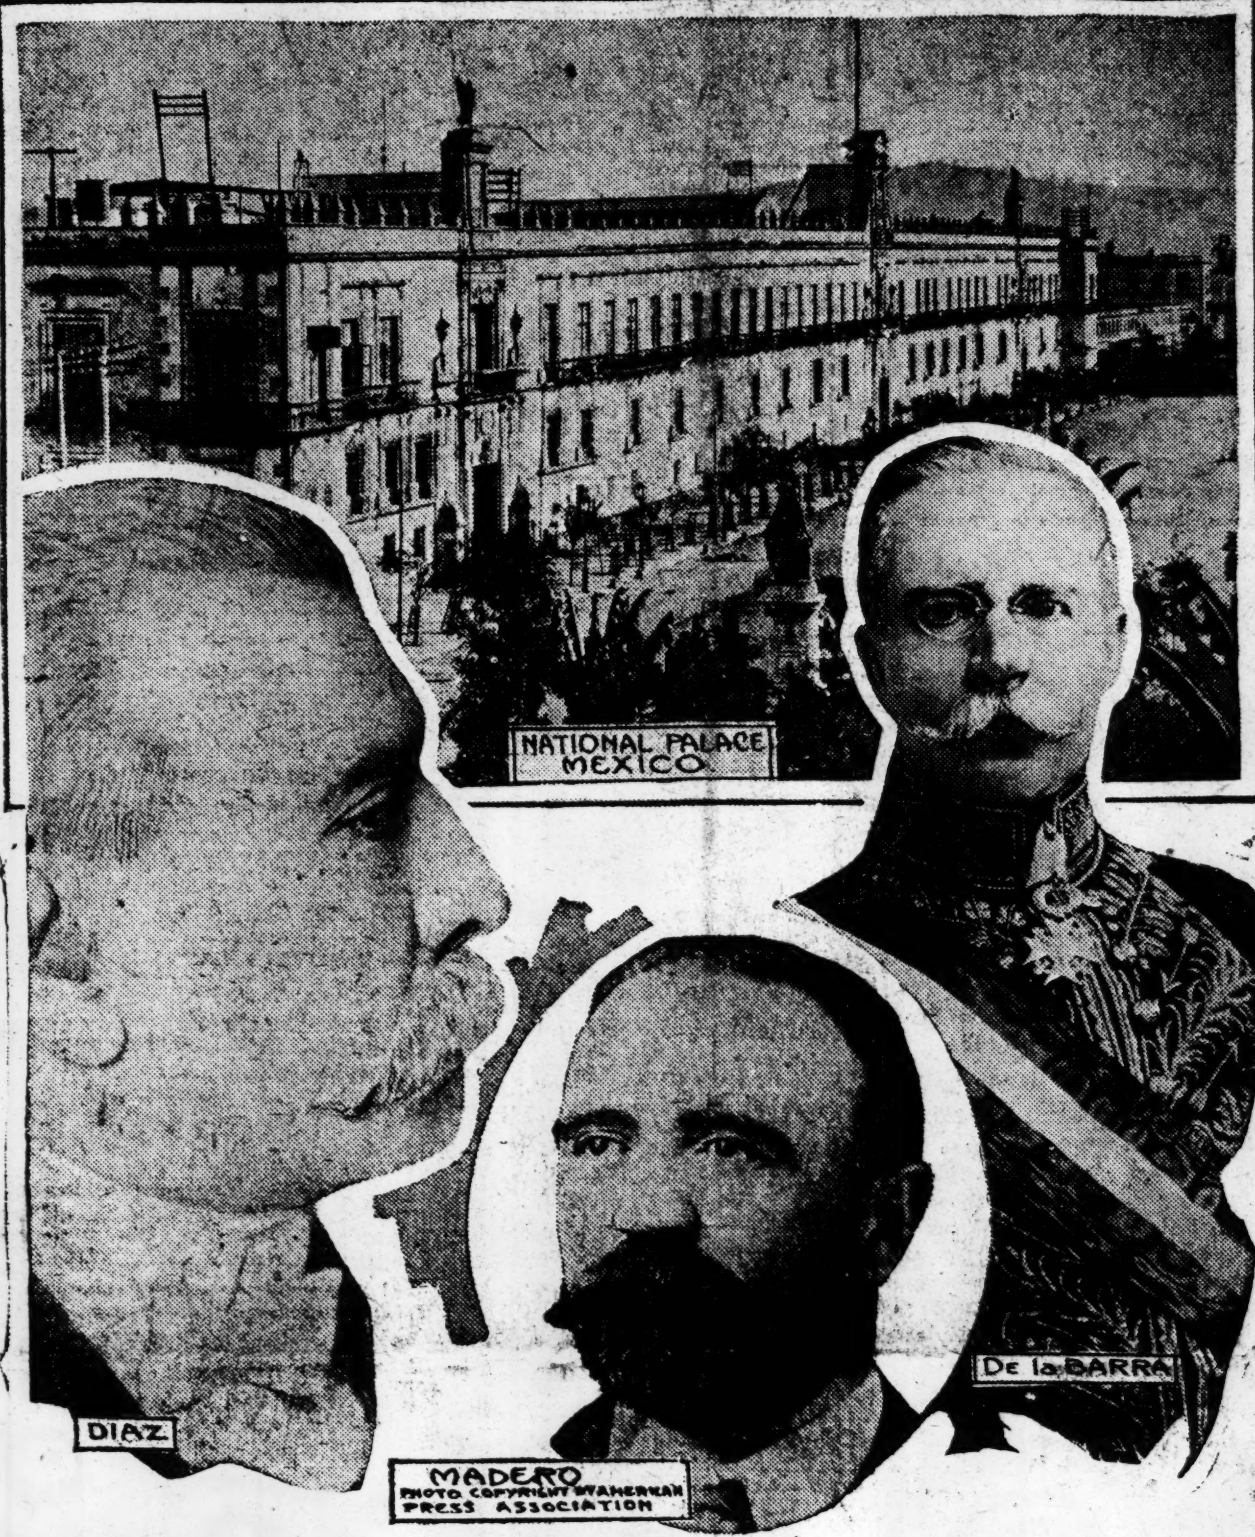

Special to Telegram.
Madrid, May 26.—Pierre Vedrine, the French aviator, won the Paris to Madrid race and prizes amounting to $30,000. The distance covered was 600 miles and the time in which the flight was made was 10 hours and 19 minutes. The best railway time between the two cities is 26 hours and 6 minutes.

Vedrine made the third stage of his flight from Bourges to Madrid in 2 hours and 45 minutes, the distance being 140 miles. This included a dangerous rise to the height of 6,500 feet to avoid air currents in passing over the mountains. Nearly all of this stage of the flight was over desolate mountain ranges with crags from 1,000 to 5,000 feet high. A fall in that section would have meant death and it would have been practically impossible to have started again had Vedrine been forced to land in the mountains.

Vedrine landing exhausted, sunk to the ground and the frantic crowd bore him to the judges' platform and showered him with roses, while pretty women repeatedly kissed him.

ELON COLLEGE HAD SUCCESSFUL YEAR

Special to Telegram.

Elon College, N. C., May 27.—The fiscal year of the college closed May 25. The reports made to the Finance Committee at this time show the college in better condition financially as to income and earning capacity, than during any previous year of its history and of course President Moffitt is in a delightful mood over this encouraging fact. The enrollment too, during this year is somewhat larger than during that of any former year. These facts encourage the President and his co-laborers in their arduous work.

The college community has begun to put on its commencement airs. The student body just at this time is deeply engrossed in examinations and perhaps for the different programs to be rendered at the close of the session. The largest class in Elon's history this year graduates there being 16 who will receive the bachelors degree, three who will receive the degree of Licentiate of Instruction in the Teachers course and then others who will receive the Masters degree. In addition to this there will be 6 teacher's certificates awarded in the Music Department and perhaps two in the Fine Arts and two in the Department of Business Practice.

The commencement promises to be largely attended. The request from visitors for accommodations during the coming year has never been so large as this year. The Baccalaureate sermon this year is to be delivered by Rev. P. H. Fleming, D.D., Burlington, N. C., pastor of the First Christian church there. The literary address is to be delivered by Chief Justice Clark of Raleigh, N. C. The Bibles are to be awarded by Rev. T. E. White. Deroy L. Fonville, Esq., Charlotte, N. C., will deliver the medals to the members of the Senior class.

MARRIED

To Husband From Whom Divorce Was Secured on February 20 Last.

Civil Court Calendar.

For the June term of Guilford Superior Court for the trial of civil cases, which begins on June 5 to continue for two weeks, there are sixty cases on the calendar. None of the cases are of especial interest. That some of the cases have been docketed for years is shown by the fact that the numbers range from 589 to 2309.

DE LA BARRA NOW PRESIDENT OF THE MEXICAN REPUBLIC

Senor Limatour took the receipt of Jaime Gueraza, the new sub-secretary of the treasury, for $60,400,000 in gold stored in the treasury vaults.

BOOKMAKERS WORKING ON BALL GAMES

Special to Telegram.

Memphis, Tenn., May 26.—It is believed that a general plan for wholesale bookmaking for major and minor league games is being attempted. Odds have been openly posted on National, American and Southern league games. Eight to one is offered that the public will be unable to pick four winners in any one league. It is said that former well known racetrack bookmakers have opened a general agency in Hot Springs. Little business is being done locally.

EARLY RULING IN RATE CASE EXPECTED

Chairman McNeil And Secretary Maxwell Return From Washington Where They Appeared Before Commerce Court—Federal Court Cases—Charters Issued.

Special to Telegram.

Raleigh, N. C., May 26.—Chairman McNeil and Secretary A. J. Maxwell, of the North Carolina Corporation Commission have returned from Washington where they were present at the argument before the new Commerce Court on the question of a temporary restraining order against the application of the order of the Interstate Commerce Commission for a reduction in Norfolk & Western freight rates from Cincinnati and Virginia cities to Winston-Salem and Durham. The indications are for an early ruling in the matter. The temporary order is being fought for by the railroad company to allow time for the Commerce Court to review the evidence and order of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

There were no overshadowing cases in the Federal Court today. Sidney S. Baker, of Wake county, paid $200 fine and costs in two cases for blockading. Preston Allen was found guilty in two cases for distilling in Johnston county, and judgment was reserved. George Raynor, Johnston county, was taxed $100 and costs for distilling. J. A. Roberson, Cumberland county, was given sixty days in jail for retailing. There is a hung jury in the case of Jeff Alston, charged with distilling in Chatham county. The trial of Ike Millican for distilling in Johnston county, is in progress.

There was a charter issued today for the Eagle Printing Co., Spray, N. C., capital $125,000 authorized and $10,000 subscribed by A. C. Phelps, C. P. Watt and others.

Another charter was for The Pannacea Springs College of Littleton, capital $125,000 by M. C. Braswell and others.

For the graduating exercise of the High School department of the Raleigh public schools today the address was delivered by President George W. Lay, of St. Mary's School, his theme being "Citizenship." Diplomas were awarded to fourteen graduates. Also there were a number of medals and scholarships presented. Miss Alice Lacy won the St. Mary's school scholarship; Frank Brown the Trinity College scholarship; and Ed. Delvin the Wake Forest College scholarship. The Chas. U. Harris medal for best debater was presented to C. J. Hunter, Jr., and to Frank Brown went the Daughters of the Revolution medal for the best paper on United States History. His paper was on "The Lost Colony." The Junior Order United American Mechanics medal for best historical paper was presented to Miss Grace Crews.

There was a conference of the governor and council state and officers of the Mattemuskeet Railroad Company this afternoon with reference to the disposition to be made of this property. While some understanding was reached, nothing was given out. The indications are that the road will be sold with the stipulation that it be equipped and operated without delay. President Joe Tayloe and Director G. J. Studdert were here participating in the conference.

Governor Kitchin returned today from his western Carolina trip, having been out of the executive office all week making educational addresses notably at Winston-Salem and Greensboro, the State Normal commencement being the occasion at Greensboro. He declares his senatorial campaign is progressing wonderfully. Letters have been pouring in in greater volume than ever, he says for the past ten days, numbers of men declaring for him whom he had not considered in the list of possibilities in estimating probable support.

A charter is issued for The Websterian Society (Incorporated) of Guilford College. It has literary and social objects and the principal incorporators are R. N. Wilson, A. W. Hobbs and others.

Preparations are on foot for the erection of a splendid ten-story bank building by Citizen's National Bank on the site of their present building and additional ground recently purchased. The building is to be 35 by 80 feet and is to be practically fireproof. The bank has leased a temporary banking house in the Woodward building on Fayetteville street near Martin street, and will move into it very soon.

Col. J. Bryan Grimes, as chairman of the North Carolina Historical Commission, and Adjutant General R. L. Leinster announce the decision to make the memorial to the lamented J. F. Armfield, adjutant general of the North Carolina National Guard a marble bust of this gallant officer of the citizen soldiery of the state. The members of the North Carolina Guard Association were canvassed as to their preference and the bust was the almost unanimous choice. Hence the announcement. This will be the first bust of the kind provided for the Hall of History which is to very greatly extend its scope and improve its arrangement as soon as its new quarters are available in the proposed fireproof state administration building.

Josh Beasley, known and liked by prominent citizens in every quarter of the state as the alert and faithful head porter in Capital Club, this city, died suddenly in the club building today. He was found in an unconscious condition in one of the card rooms and was dead by the time medical aid could reach him. He died of heart failure but had been apparently very well for some time past. He was fifty years old.

The General Orders, No. 8, for the encampments of the different regiments of the North Carolina National Guard at Camp Glenn, Morehead, this summer is just issued from the office of Adjutant General Leinster. delusion in regard to conditions here.

The credit of North Carolina is all right. This State will be able, doubtless, in the future to dispose of all bonds
it desires to sell. The bond issue for the erection of the Administration building and the Home for the Feeble Minded
sold at about par, which is the highest evidence that investors are not afraid of North Carolina bonds and that they are regarded as a good investment at four per cent.

Greensboro is larger than Asheville just because Greensboro turned out a larger crowd to a baseball game one day than did Asheville.—Greenville, S. C., Pied-

The Telegram does not claim that Greensboro is larger than Asheville. The census figures do not show that it is;
but we were wondering how it happens
that towns claiming to be two or three times the size of Greensboro have much smaller average attendance at the baseball games. The explanation we suggested was that this town is filled with baseball fanatics.

THE PRESIDENT WAS RIGHT.

Honest men everywhere, men who are good citizens, who obey the laws and deal in an honorable manner with their fellow men, heartily approve of the decision reached by President Taft in the Morse and Walsh cases. The conclusion reached by the President is logical and
it is according to the laws of the land
and in accord with the opinions of all good citizens.

Morse and Walsh violated the law of the country and the penalties of the law
are being visited upon them. The cases
against them were clear and their guilt
is unquestioned, but the President was asked to pardon them on the ground of sentiment. It was urged upon his consideration that both men are growing
old, are broken in health, are sorry for their crimes and have made, or will make, restitution to the people whom they wronged. Undoubtedly these pleas for clemency are founded on facts and
no doubt it was somewhat of a disagreeable task for the President to refuse pardons to these men under the circumstances; but the great majority of Mr. Taft's fellow citizens will approve of his course, and had it been the opposite they would have severely condemned him.

Morse and Walsh are both intelligent men; they were smooth and smart
in business; they occupied high stations in the financial world; they clearly understood the import of what they were doing, and they deliberately violated the laws of the land and wronged
and robbed their fellow men. When brought to account they made strenuous

efforts to avoid the consequences of their evil deeds; and there is no record
of the fact if they suggested restitution
for any purpose except to avoid prison sentences. Why should these men not pay to the full the penalties inflicted
for their crimes, when it is evident that the penalties are not excessive? The punishment is unpleasant, of course;
but they understood from the beginning
that prisons awaited them if they were caught and there was no miscarriage
of justice. They chose to take chances;
they played their game and lost. They ought to suffer the consequences. In fact, they ought to be made examples
for other men following in the paths
they trod. In that way other men may be saved from prison and thousands of people saved from great trouble and losses.

Walsh and Morse were among the brigands of "big business" and they are no better than highway robbers. The fact that they were big business men,
belonging to the class of men who generally escape the consequences of wrong doing because of position, influences and money, strengthens the case against them and is an additional reason why they should be required to serve their sentences. In refusing to pardon them President Taft has performed a service to the country and his act is right in line with the ideas of the country's honest men of all classes.

MEMORIAL TO DR. KNAPP.

A movement is taking form in the South having as its purpose the erection of a monument to the memory of the late Dr. Seaman A. Knapp, who gave many years of his life to a splendid effort to improve Southern agricultural conditions and to the elevation of the rural population of this section. Dr.
Knapp's name stands at the head of the list of those who have labored successfully in this field, and it will remain
there. Dr. Knapp gave the best years
of his life to the farm demonstration
work and to the labor of teaching Southern farmers the possibilities of their soil and the benefits to be derived
from diversification and scientific methods. It is well within the bounds of truth to say that no man of the present generation has accomplished so much as did Dr. Knapp for the development of the farms and farmers of this section of the United States. While his work was primarily to teach farmers how
to produce larger crops of the staples
they were growing and how to grow
crops which they were not producing,
it was likewise a grand uplift movement
for the rural population of this section.
It has been uplifting to the farmers and their families by bringing them somewhat of the measure of financial freedom and prosperity to which they are entitled, and this prosperity has naturally resulted in improved conditions in the country districts. Better schools and churches have resulted from this movement; better homes and better
modes of living; improved educational advantages and a general uplifting of
the status of Southern agriculturists.

Dr. Knapp is entitled to a large measure of credit for the success of this great forward movement, and in the opinion of many his work was the most effective of that done in the past two decades by agricultural leaders in this section of the country. It is fitting that the South should wish to honor his memory and that the movement should
first take root among the people he loved
and to whose interests he gave the last years of his life. The movement to build a monument to the memory of Dr. Knapp will find thousands of adherents and cheerful contributors to the necessary fund. It has already been widely endorsed, and one of the strongest endorsements given has come from the Progressive Farmer of Raleigh. The Progressive Farmer says:

"The farmers of the South and all persons interested in the great program
of agricultural upbuilding to which Dr.
Seaman A. Knapp gave the last and best
years of his life—all these should now
get together and see that a worthy monument is erected in memory of the lost
leader of a great cause.

"There are many reasons why such a monument should be erected. In the first place, it would betoken the new spirit of the Southern people. We have built many monuments to warriors and politicians; but until now there has been too slight recognition of the debt
we owe our great educational and industrial leaders. Again, the building of such a monument is a debt we owe ourselves. A true man owes it to his own nature to give expression to every
sentiment of gratitude, every sentiment
of love for a noble and unselfish leader,
that stirs within him. When a man
fails to give expression to such a sentiment, he cramps his own soul and
tightens the stifling cords of selfishness
about it. When the Almighty mentioned the debt of gratitude due from a child
to its parents as one of the ten great duties of man, there was implied the importance of rendering tribute to all
others who have helped us in a noble
and unselfish way.

"This debt the farmers of the South,
and not only the farmers but all other classes (for all have benefited by his labors) are due in great measure to Dr.
Knapp.

"Chancellor Barrow of the University
of Georgia in a recent memorial meeting to Dr. Knapp recommended the building of such a monument as we have here suggested, and also advised

that contributions be limited to not over $10 from any one individual. Thus would the monument indicate the love
of the great common people for their fallen leader. We incline to the opinion that this is the only sort of monument Dr. Knapp would care for.
"Let us build it—and build it in this way."

What the Tariff on Sugar Means to the American Farmer.

An instructive circular issued by the wholesale grocers gives the people who buy sugar some idea of the burden of
tariff taxation upon the working people
and the people of small means in the United States. According to this circular,
the average person consumes a little more than 80 pounds of sugar per annum and the average family consumes
a little more than 400 pounds per an-
num. The tariff on granulated sugar
is nearly 2 cents a pound, and because of that tariff the price of sugar in the United States is about 2 cents a pound
higher than it is in Germany or England.
According to the Government figures,
the average wholesale price of sugar in foreign countries in 1906 was 2.15 cents
a pound, while in the United States
the average wholesale price was a little over 4 1-2 cents. Or, in other words,
the tariff adds 2 cents a pound to the price of sugar. The tariff, therefore, on this one necessary of life costs the average family about $8 a year. This would be bad enough if the whole of the tax
were paid into the public treasury for the use of the Government. But, in fact, only $4 goes to the Government and the other $4 to the Sugar Refining Company—that is to say, the Sugar Trust. The tariff tax on raw sugar is about 1 cent a pound, or a little less,
while the tax on refined sugar is about 2 cents a pound. The tax on refined sugar is intended by Congress to protect the Sugar Trust from competition, and
it protects it so thoroughly that very little refined sugar is imported, and the price charged by the trust is just up to the top of the tariff wall.

The United States Government gets
a revenue of more than $50,000,000 a year from the tariff on sugar, and the Sugar Trust gets a far greater sum. Because the tariff enables the trust not only to add for its own benefit 1 cent
a pound to the price of all the sugar that is imported, but because it keeps out
competition, it enables it to add 2 cents
a pound to the price of the millions of pounds produced in the United States and upon which it pays no tariff. The trust also has added the tariff of 2 cents
a pound on the millions of pounds which
it imported and upon which it paid no
duty at all because of the employment
of false weighing scales and perjury.

The present Payne-Aldrich Tariff law,
like most of those that preceded it, is so
cunningly devised in the interest of the trust that people cannot import raw sugar that is fit for use. It must be of a certain dark color to escape the 2
cents a pound rate, and that device puts
even the people who would wish to use
brown sugar at the mercy of the Sugar Trust.

Until Congress is empowered to impose a tax upon incomes it may be necessary to collect a revenue from sugar,
however distressing it may be to the poor and needy. But there is no reason why the people of the land should be taxed from $50,000,000 to $100,000,000
a year for the benefit of the Sugar Trust, which has been convicted of cheating the Government out of millions. If the differential on refined sugar were reduced to the minimum or abolished altogether, the revenue of the

THE VALUE OF NEWS-PAPER ADVERTISING is too frequently estimated by comparing the rates of the
several newspapers in a terri-

There is but one thing that

WHEN SHE SAYS "NO"

(By AMANDA MOORE.)

Many a man has lost his chance of winning the girl he loves by the way
he takes her refusal of his heart and hand. Note that sentence carefully;
it is not a contradiction, nor is it a puzzle. When a man is really deeply in love with a girl he should not take her
first refusal as final unless he knows
that she has given her love to another man. On the contrary he should ask her again and again, not with brutal persistency, but with gallant perseverance. And in the end he will very likely succeed
in winning her for his own.

It can never be pleasant for a man to have his offer of marriage refused, however gently the refusal is given. Not only is his dream of happiness dissipated, but there is the blow to his self-esteem. And it is on this last point that men are apt to give themselves away.
The very worst thing a rejected man
can do, if he means to try again, is to utter any reproaches of the "you led me on" kind, even if he considers he has good grounds for such. There is not a girl in the world who would not resent
such meanness, and she would resent it
the more if there were any grains of truth in it. Indeed, anything in the form of temper or sarcasm should be carefully avoided, however raw the rejected one may be feeling.

What then should be his demeanor in such adverse circumstances? Is the natural question the reader may ask. Keen disappointment would naturally be shown, and in some cases the rejected
one might indicate that he still retains some hope. But above all, he should show consideration for the girl himself.
To any nice girl it must be painful to reject a man, and the true lover, when he realizes that his pleadings are in vain, should show consideration for the feelings of the girl he loves.

She will not forget his unselfishness,
and should she be heart whole he will
very likely take a great stride forward
towards the winning of her heart.

Good Manners and Common Sense

(By MARGARET E. SANGSTER.)

The manners of women to one another
in other branches of trade are open to criticism. The dressmaker who blandly
promises to finish a gown on a stated
day, and mendaciously disappoints a
patron, shows very bad manners indeed.
Equally the lady who ignores her dress-
maker's appointment, and arrives an hour too late, shows herself a person of inferior breeding.

Appointments in business must always
be kept punctually, or there is a violation of courtesy. A woman may not rustle into her dentist's office a half hour
late, and expect that his chair will be vacant.

Good manners between the railway
officials and the traveling public exact courtesy on both sides. Superfluous questions should not be asked. Civil questions should be pleasantly answered.

Good manners forbid a passenger to storm at a forgetful conductor on a street car. The conductor if well-mannered, will, if possible, treat every passenger with politeness as a guest of the road that employs him.

In brief, good manners in business are simply condensed common sense. They minimize strain and forward the advance of the world's incessant work.

Household Hints

To Make Starch.

When making starch have a kettle of boiling starch. In a clean enameled
saucepan stir until smooth half a cupful
of starch and one cupful of cold water.
Then gradually add boiling water, stirring all the time. Boil the starch for 10 minutes, stirring constantly.

Now add a little white wax or a piece of sperm candle. If wax or candle is not available use a teaspoonful of butter or lard. Cover the saucepan and let the starch simmer 20 minutes longer.
Add a few drops of bluing.

The amount of boiling water added to
the starch and cold water will depend upon how stiff the articles are to be made. For shirt bosoms, cuffs and collars add one quart of boiling water. For dresses, undershirts, etc., use two quarts
of boiling water.

Use of Table Oilcloth.

Considering the trifling outlay to begin with there is nothing to compare
with the table oilcloth as a labor saver.
To begin with the kitchen: After you
have covered your work table with it
line each drawer in the kitchen and pantry.

The next day I am sure you will cover
your molding board on both sides. Then get the pretty, scalloped kind, and use
instead of paper on your pantry shelves.
Oilcloth will make bibs for the children
and napkins to put under their plates.

Pink each piece neatly. Put squares
of oilcloth under the tablecloth where hot dishes are placed. If you use an oil heater have some boards fastened together, cover with dark-colored oilcloth
and place castors underneath. Some pieces to place under potted plants, when
you wish them on mantel, piano or window ledge, are handy to save the wood finish.

Oilcloth also makes neat washstand
covers and splashes for the servants' or
boys' room.

A Homemade Linoleum.

The following is an item of help that may interest some one who is needing
a covering for the kitchen floor—one hat
will wear well and be neat and attractive.

Take an old rag carpet, darn and
patch all holes and stretch tightly on the floor.

Then make a good, stiff paste, and
with a brush fill the carpet as full of paste as it will take up. Let dry, then apply a second coat, which glazes the carpet.

Now give it two coats of paint and if preferred one can stripe or check it with
some other color or by means of a sten-cil paint any kind of a design. This carpet is inexpensive, looks almost as well as linoleum and will wear as long.

A Convenient Work Table.

Get a table about three feet high and cover with zinc. There should be a drawer for knives, forks, etc., and at the back a frame on which tin cups may be hung, also spoons, egg-beaters, etc.
Have a shelf put over the table covered
with oil cloth, and on this keep boxes
containing baking powder, soda and spices, each marked according to its contents. The table being high precludes
that constant stooping necessary to a tall person while working at an ordinary table.

There is more Catarrh in this section
of the country than all other diseases
put together, and until the last few
years was supposed to be incurable.
For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed
local remedies, and by constantly failing
to cure with local treatment, pronounced
it incurable. Science has proven catarrh
to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment.
Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market.
It is taken internally in doses from 10

SCIENCE PREVENTS BALDNESS.

The Fatal Germ and Its Remedy New Facts of Science.

It is the rarest thing in the world for a man to be necessarily bald. No man whose hair does not shed at the roots, and
be bald if he will use Newby's Herp-icide, the new scalp antiseptic. Herp-icide destroys the germ that cuts the hair
off at the root; and cleans the scalp of dandruff and leaves it in a perfect healthy condition. Mr. Mannett, of the Maryland Block, Butte, Mont., was extremely bald. In less than a month Herp-icide had removed the enemies of hair
growth, and nature did its work by cov-

outfit of hair. Sold by leading druggists.

UNDERSIZED GENIUSES

Physical Peculiarities of Some Men of Great Mental Ability.

There are people who contend that genius is generally situated in the persons of men of few inches. Some have gone so far as to declare that great height and genius are incompatible.

Lombroso was perhaps the chief exponent of these views, but other men of note have been in accord with such opinions.

In support of this argument Napoleon the First, Alexander the Great, Edgar Allan Poe, Alexander Pope, Nelson and Blake have been cited. The list of men of undoubted genius who have been short of stature, some indeed almost dwarfs, is long.

It is also a noteworthy truth, says the Dietetic and Hygienic Gazette, that many of the really very great men have been not only small but diseased and deformed. For instance, Julius Caesar, who may be classed among the short men, was an epileptic. Napoleon suffered from epilepsy. Alexander the Great and Edgar Allan Poe were dipsomaniacs; Pope was grievously misshapen.

Byron, although about of average height, was congenitally lame; Nelson was a small man of frail health, and it would be possible to tabulate among men of genius of the first rank a large number who were under the average stature and afflicted with bodily defects.

In Popular Science Monthly Charles Kassel attempts to overthrow the popular belief that great minds and short stature are closely allied. Mr. Kassel looked through biographies and concluded as a result of his perusal that so far as Americans are concerned distinguished men have not been of short stature, but rather the reverse. He also discovered that many European eminent men have been of considerable height.

In the first place, when speaking of average stature it must be borne in mind that the average stature of countries varies greatly. The average height of men of this continent is about five feet eight inches, of Great Britain less, but the average height of the Latin races of Europe is far below the standard. But taking the average height of man as five feet eight inches, Kassel makes out a goodly list of very eminent men who have exceeded the average.

Of the lives of 230 distinguished men examined thus those of 103 supplied the information sought either in exact figures or by way of general statement, and of these personages it appears that 16 were of middle height, 58 above and 29 below.

Among the very distinguished men of this country were some of large stature—Charles Sumner more than six feet four inches, Jefferson and Andrew Jackson considerably over six feet in height. Among those of six feet and over may be mentioned Samuel Adams, George Washington, Lincoln, Bismarck, Thackeray, Charles Darwin, Henry Ward Beecher, Rufus Choate and Daniel O'Connell. The list of famous men of medium height is long, including Browning and John Adams.

An interesting and somewhat curious fact is that some of the tall men of genius have had moderate-sized heads. Shelley the poet was tall but had a small head, and some of the small men imbued with the divine spark had large heads, apparently proving that the size of the head had little to do with the quality of the brains.

Of recent deaths among men of genius Tolstoy was a tall, strongly built man with a leonine head, Meredith was a thin, delicate looking man of more than medium height, Swinburne was a very short man with a somewhat large head, and Whistler was a small, thin man with a head of more than the ordinary size.

QUITS CLUB FOR FAMILY.

Society Woman Startles Friends By New Code of Duty.

Pittsburg, May 26.—Mrs. Joseph C. de Noon, one of the most prominent society and club women in the state, caused a sensation in club and social circles here today, when, in resigning as president of the Exclusive New Era Club, she declared that a woman's children and husband should enjoy a mother's and a wife's undivided attention. She told the two score members present that she thought it was the duty of every woman to devote all time possible to home and family duties, and that to do so one could not be a club woman.

To emphasize her remarks, Mrs. de Noon called her two beautiful little girls to her side and placing her hands on their heads, said: "I am quitting club life to give these children and my husband all my attention. Woman cannot be an active club woman and do her family justice."

Mrs. de Noon's statement nearly electrified her sister club-women and her action has caused considerable comment. As the leader of the crusade against children smoking cigarettes in this state, Mrs. de Noon sprang into prominence about a year ago.

HIDES HIS MILLIONS

ROCKEFELLER CONCEALS FORTUNE IN UNDERGROUND SAFE.

Vault Constructed of Concrete, Railway Rails and Sheet Steel Guarded by Intricate System of Locks—Holds $200,000,000.

New York.—The long and closely guarded secret as to where John D. Rockefeller preserves his stacks of stocks and bonds has been disclosed at last. The bulk of his immense treasure of collateral estimated at $200,000,000, is in a specially constructed bomb, burglar and fireproof vault built under the northeast corner of the New York City Produce exchange.

Between the street outside and the repositories of the Rockefeller fortune are ten locks varied in character. In front of the iron vault, the largest of its kind in the world devoted to collecting the properties of a single person, there is on view a cage not at all unlike that in which Captain Dreyfus was confined at Devil's island.

Two of the locks are padlocks, one upon each of the two combination locks visible from the exterior from the closed door of the vault. These two padlocks are usually opened with a key in the hands of President William H. Person, of the Safe Deposit company, which turning, releases the dial of each of the common locks, and permits the latter to be set by two men from Mr. Rockefeller's private office.

The interior of the vault is 9 feet wide, 9 feet high and 15 feet deep. The wall of the vault has a thickness of 40 inches. In the center of 35 inches of concrete are 90-pound steel rails set 6 inches apart in double rows, interlocked so as to be practically 3 inches apart. The remaining 4 inches of the wall are 4 inches thickness of solid steel.

Looking towards the interior of the vault there are arranged upon either side numerous compartments of small safes. There are from 15 to 20 of these varying in sizes. Two combination locks guard each. Having swung back the steel door of one of the inner chests, there are revealed small sheet steel boxes of a thickness of one-sixteenth of an inch. There are four of these, as a rule, in each chest. They are equipped with a hinge and lid and key box. The last turn of the key opens one of the sheet steel boxes. In one of these inner side compartments is a card index which registers the bonds with their dates of maturity and the months when the coupons come off.

Stop Aeroplane Joy Rides.

New York.—Profiting by the experience of the public with automobile joy riders, the Aero Club of America is considering the framing of a bill making it a misdemeanor for any person to use an aeroplane not owned by himself without the consent of the owner. The matter is in the hands of the law committee of the club, which will draft a bill similar to the automobile laws recently passed in several states covering similar conditions with the automobile.

Girl of Nine Would Wed Boy of Nine. Philadelphia.—Declaring that she had induced nine-year-old Arthur Hurdle, 1829 Lombard street, to run away from home with her that the two might be married, Lillian Willmer, who is nine years of age, was held under $300 bail on the charge of being incorrigible.

The Charger at the Funeral.

The charger led at the funeral of a cavalry officer is a relic of the custom when a horse was sacrificed at the grave. An officer led the charger behind the bier to the brink of the grave and it was there slain and thrown upon the coffin. The last occurrence of this kind took place at Treves, Germany, in 1781.

CHECK ON POPULAR VOTE

Judiciary Committee Minority Fears for Rights of Congress.

Washington, D. C., May 25.—Those members of the Senate Judiciary Committee who oppose any change in the present system of electing Senators, or who believe the pending amendment for popular election is taking away certain powers from Congress, have at last filed a minority report. It was presented by Senator Sutherland. He favors the popular election of Senators, but believes that authority of Congress to supervise the elections, as now contained in the Constitution, should be retained.

Other members of the committee think the choice of Senators should rest entirely with the Legislatures of the various States, and that any deviation from that plan would be dangerous and contrary to the intents of the fathers when they framed this form of government. The minority report was signed by Senator Clark (Wyoming), Nelson, Dillingham, Sutherland, Brandegee and Root, all Republicans.

The report ignores the question of direct elections and deals entirely with that of supervision, which is declared to be the more important feature of the House election resolution which is now before the Senate on a report from the majority of the Judiciary Committee.

The subject is presented from many points of view, but is fairly summarized in the first exception, in which it is contended that there is no reason why the ultimate authority of the National Government over the times and manner of electing Senators by direct popular vote should not continue to be exercised just as it always has been exercised over the direct election of Representatives by popular vote.

"The exercise of that national power over the popular election of Representatives meets now," it is argued, "with no objection and, under the proposed amendment, is to continue. The proposed change from legislative election of Senators to popular election of Senators furnishes no reason whatever for destroying the ultimate power of control over the election of Senators which the National Congress now has under the Constitution."

Contention also is made that possession of the power which it is proposed to strike out is essential to enable the National Government to act effectively in case it should ever have occasion to enforce the provision of the fourteenth and fifteenth amendments to the Constitution. "The basis of any enforcement of those provisions must necessarily be the ascertainment and establishment of the facts in respect of the elections to which they may relate," says the report. "The proposed amendment, if adopted, would be the latest expression of the sovereign will of the people of the United States, and would take away from the National Government authority to make those regulations regarding elections which are essential to the preservation of evidence regarding what actually occurs."

Large increase in Louisiana. Cotton needs rain but recently was relieved by good showers. Crops well cultivated and stands generally good, Mississippi percentage condition about five points better than year ago when it was 75.7. In Louisiana the percentage condition is ten points better than last year when it was 71.5. Boll Weevil has made its appearance quite generally. The acreage changes in Florida are slight and there will be little change from last year. Percentage condition very high and seasonal.

COTTON LETTER TO J. E. LATHAM.

New Orleans, La., May 26.—There was no rain in the belt over night and the weather map shows continued fair weather in Oklahoma, North Texas and the Carolinas. There are no indications of an immediate change to general rains in those quarters, such as is needed, although it looks as though the cloudiness was increasing in the Northwestern quarter, possibly a thundershower at a few points. Fair weather is indicated for the Carolinas during the next 24 hours. This drought in Oklahoma, the need of rain in Texas and the drought in the Carolinas are the reason for the resistance of the market to decline. It must be remembered that so far the belief in a large crop has been based on the large acreage only, and has no foundation outside of that excepting the general wish for a big crop. Should this belief be shaken by whatever cause, a large demand for futures would come on the market.

There is not only an exhaustion of raw material of this year but an unusual depletion of goods, reserves equal perhaps in effect to several millions of bales. The new crop has to satisfy all this.

The market opened a few points higher and ruled very steady until the government forecast was published, promising cloudy weather and showers in Oklahoma and North Arkansas.

Liverpool was steadier than expected, particularly on new crops, spots unchanged, sales 6,000.

PREDICTS ANOTHER DRY YEAR

Rainfall in 1910 Went to the Low Record of 1895, and 1911 May Be Even Worse.

New York.—The records of the New York weather bureau show that the year 1910 was the driest on record in this section, with the single exception of 1895. In both these years the total precipitation was less than thirty-six inches, or about 25 per cent. below normal.

This year may be even worse, if the record of the first three months is any indicator. For January, February and March the bureau records a shortage of nearly three inches from the normal rainfall, although heavy snowfalls during these months are generally counted on to swell the year's total.

The government weather sharps are inclined to think, judging from present indications and past performances that the year's rainfall will be fully 10 per cent. less than last year.

7:30 the Royal Dining Hour.

London.—Despite constant assertions to the contrary, the London dinner hour is to be earlier this season, as the king and queen prefer to dine early, and their example will be followed. It has been noted that though dinner is served at the palace at 7:30, all dinners given in honor of their majesties have been served at 8:30, as in the time of Edward VII, which was, of course, done with royal sanction.

Real Charity.

Harrison, Va.—Ice cream and cake at the state normal school here has been offered up on the altar of charity. Instead of enjoying the dessert which usually accompanies their Sunday dinner the 200 girls at the school denied themselves this pleasure last Sunday. The $25 saved thereby was forwarded to the Red Cross Chinese relief fund.

Must Prepare Bridal Dinner.

A quaint, old superstition in Iceland is that every bride must invite all her friends to a dinner in her own home, and every article of food must be prepared by the bride herself. If she is successful in pleasing her guests she not only receives praise for her own skill, but helps along her younger sisters, who are then assumed to be equally good at cooking, and consequently have a much better chance of getting married.

Compliment Well Returned.

The story is told that Judge Story and Edward Everett were once the prominent personages at a public dinner in Boston. The former as a voluntary toast, gave: "Fame follows merit where Everett goes." The gentleman thus delicately complimented at once arose, and replied with this equally felicitous impromptu: "To whatever height judicial learning may attain in this country, there will always be one Story higher."

Cause for Thankfulness.

If we have enough to eat and to wear and good health, isn't that a plenty to be thankful for.

Russian Wealth Unevenly Divided.

Seventy per cent. must be given in prizes, 5 per cent. goes for streets and roads, and the rest, less expenses, is divided among the public hospitals, schools, fire departments and charities.

CARRIERS OF TELEGRAM WILL COLLECT SATURDAY

The Boys Will Beginning Today Call on Subscribers on Their Respective Routes Each Week—Subscribers Requested to See That Their Name, With Amount Due Opposite, is Shown on Route Books.

The Management of The Greensboro Telegram wishes to announce to subscribers whose papers are being delivered by carriers in the city of Greensboro and the suburbs, that beginning with today the carriers will make collections on their respective routes. Saturday will be the regular collection day. The boys will go around their routes every Saturday morning and will call on all subscribers who owe anything on their subscription. The Management believes that it will be more convenient to the majority of the readers of The Telegram to pay every week 10 cents than to allow the accounts to run up and settlements to be made at irregular times. Some of the subscribers pay by the quarter, semi-annually and annually. Many others pay monthly, or every two weeks. The convenience of the subscriber, of course, will be considered in making the collections. In cases where any considerable amount is due on subscriptions statements will be made out and given to the boys for collection. Subscribers are requested to see that the carrier has the regular route book with the subscriber's name and the amount due opposite. The carrier is authorized to collect the amount shown opposite the subscriber's name whether he has statement or not.

"It shall be the purpose and desire in future to collect all subscription accounts promptly when due. In cases where it is not convenient to pay the full amount due, installment payments will be appreciated. Subscribers will be given as much consideration in the matter of suiting their convenience in the collection of subscriptions as is consistent with good business methods.

The co-operation of all subscribers in putting into effect this new system will be appreciated by both the Management and the boys. It may be well here to state that the boys will be paid a commission for collecting—the more they collect the more they make.

Smallest Inhabited Island.

People who inhabit some of the Thousand Islands in the St. Lawrence river claim that they are the smallest inhabited islands in the world, but it has recently been determined that the site of the Eddystone lighthouse is entitled to the distinction, the island upon which this lighthouse is built being only 30 feet in diameter at low tide.

Famous Men Tall and Short.

Among the very distinguished men of the country were some of large stature—Charles Sumner, more than six feet, four inches; Jefferson and Andrew Jackson, considerably more than six feet in height. Among those of six feet and over may be mentioned Samuel Adams, George Washington, Lincoln, Bismarck, Thackeray, Charles Darwin, Henry Ward Beecher, Rufus Choate and Daniel O'Connell. The list of famous men of medium height is long, including Browning and John Adams.

Practical Christianity.

The story is told of a little housemaid, far over the sea, who, when asked whether she realized that she was in any way different after uniting with the church, from what she had been before, thought for an instant, and then, smiling brightly, said: "Well I saved the corners." She could hardly have given a better demonstration of her religious life.—Christian Herald.

The Oldest Map.

After some controversy about the age of various maps that have come down to us from ancient times it has been finally determined by savants that the oldest is in the form of a mosaic in a Byzantine church at Malaba, in Palestine. It is about 1,700 years old and purports to be a map of a part of the Holy Land.

Since then my trouble has never returned." Try it.

DAN O'REILLY CONVICTED

Counsel for Thaw and Nan Patterson Receiver of Stolen Goods.

New York, May 26.—Daniel J. O'Reilly, former assistant district attorney and well known as a criminal lawyer in connection with cases of Harry K. Thaw and Nan Patterson, was today found guilty of receiving stolen goods by a jury in the criminal branch of the Supreme Court, and was remanded for sentence.

O'Reilly was charged with having negotiated for Frank L. Plass the return of $7,000 worth of securities stolen March 2 from Aaron Bancroft, an aged broker. A reward of $5,000 was paid for their return and evidence was presented to show that O'Reilly received $833 as his share of the reward.

John Hays Hammond, Uncle Sam's Envoy to Coronation of King

JOHN HAYS HAMMOND, who has had many unusual experiences during his busy career, is to have still more experiences in June, when he represents the United States as special envoy to the coronation of King George V. As the representative of one of the great nations of the world he will be the associate of hereditary rulers, future rulers, world famous diplomats and distinguished citizens of all lands. Mr. Hammond is a close friend of President Taft. Indeed, he loaned Mr. Taft his cook last year when the president made his long tour through the west and south. He has been mentioned as a possible ambassador to one of the great European powers, but it is understood that he does not seek that honor, that he is too busy to accept the appointment. But going to London for a few weeks as a special envoy to a coronation that is expected to equal or surpass anything of the kind ever seen was different, and Mr. Hammond easily found time to go. The above picture was made at a horse show at Lakewood, N. J., only a few days ago and while the mining engineer was making preparations to sail for England.

WHY THE CLEVELAND CLUB FAILS TO WIN.

Hughie Jennings explains the mystery of the Cleveland club's failure to win more games with such heavy artillery as the team has to support the pitchers. Hughie the observant says: "Cleveland doesn't know how to score runs when it gets the chance. It wastes opportunities, and its attack, for all its big caliber guns, is seldom concentrated and never timed with any forethought." If a scheme of the Jennings sort had hold of the club it would make runs.

JAKE DAUBERT A WONDER.

Brooklyn's First Baseman Threatens to Usurp Throne of Hal Chase.

Jake Daubert, the young first baseman of the Brooklyn Nationals, threatens to dethrone Hal Chase as the king of first sackers. While American league supporters are loath to class Daubert as the equal of Chase, there are thousands of fans in the National circuit that consider the Brooklyn boy as good as the Yankee star. Some have gone further and have proclaimed Daubert the king of guardians of the initial station. One of Daubert's heartiest supporters is Charley Doolin, the peppy manager of the Phillies. In Charley's estimation Chase never compared with Daubert, "and," adds the fiery topped leader, "Jake has not yet attained his top form."

From the viewpoint of many, Daubert is a harder and more dependable hitter in a pinch than youthful Hal; also Daubert can throw with more accuracy to second or third base. As a graceful fielder the Daubert adherents concede that point to Chase; but, they insist, Daubert can go as high for a throw and reach out as far from the base as Chase ever did. As to which has the faster thinking ability is a mooted question.

This is Daubert's second year in fast company, and he is learning in every game. Without question Daubert is one of the most promising first basemen that ever jimmied his way into the major leagues, and if he continues to improve at the rate that he has shown since he donned a Dodger uniform the time is not far away when the fans will do homage to him as the greatest first baseman that ever wore spikes.

LARNER VERSUS GOULDING.

Greatest Walkers in World to Compete in Toronto.

G. E. Lerner, the great English walker and holder of several world's records, will compete against George Goulding, the Canadian champion, in Toronto the second week of June.

Lerner won the walking championship at the Olympic games in London in 1908, with Goulding in third place. The latter, however, has improved wonderfully and seems destined to take the measure of any one he meets in a heel and toe event.

The Canadian A. A. U. recently passed a rule putting the ban on special events, so that the coming race will have to be an open one, with but two stars as the possible contenders.

Fifteen players of the Germantown Cricket club of Philadelphia will be sent abroad to play against the English cricketers in June. Dr. J. Norman Henry will lead the team.

More than 300 athletes, representing nineteen colleges, have been entered in the annual western conference meet which will be held in Minneapolis in June. Notre Dame is the favorite for the point trophy.

INSIDE PLAYS PUZZLE FANS

Average Enthusiast Knows Little of Secret Workings of Team.

MANAGER DIRECTS OFFENSE.

Defensively the Team, if It Works Harmoniously, Decides Its Strategies on the Spur of the Moment—Catcher the Pivot.

If the average fan could realize how little he really knows of baseball he might be less prone to criticism. There is nothing more refreshing to a student of the game than to sit through some pleasant afternoon in a hotbed of fans in stand or bleachers and hear the quips handed out on the play as these spectators see it.

Of course the fan pays his good money to nourish the sport. Then who has a better right than he to air his views? While the layman doubtless is aware of the fact that baseball of today embraces far more than is shown on the surface, few, very few, realize the intricate complications of "inside" baseball. Far too often are such epithets as "bonehead," "lob," "ivory skull" and the like applied to the wrong party. The game is progressing with the times. The team manager of today is the one supreme power or whose judgment almost solely depends success or disappointment.

The captaincy of a major league baseball club of today is but a hollow honor. Indeed, there is virtually no such office except in case of a strictly bench manager, such as Connie Mack or Pat Donovan. In the latter case a field captain is essential only so far as handling the umpires.

Offensively the manager directs play. Defensively the team, if it works harmoniously, decides its strategies on the spur of the moment—that is, so far as accepting chances is concerned. The fielders concerned always try, but the one who is absolutely sure of the play calls for the chance and is invariably allowed to stand or fall on his own judgment.

Naturally the position of the catcher gives him best command of all the situations that arise. He faces his other teammates and can keep strict tab on the bases. If a base runner strays too far from his station the catcher dashes the intelligence to both pitcher and infielder concerned. The fielder is ready for the throw when the pitcher wheels quickly to let the ball go, and if the base runner is not equally alert he is caught napping.

The catcher signals the pitcher the nature of every ball he is to serve the batter. Sometimes the pitcher will not agree with his battery mate on the point. Then the backstop signals for different kinds of balls until he hits upon one the pitcher thinks will do the trick—that is, of course, if he has faith in the twirler's judgment.

But not alone the catcher profits by the sign language of the battery. The hawk eyed infielders and outfielders must be familiar with every sort of ball delivered. Both infielders and outfielders have to play differently on a fast straight one to what they could on a curve. That is why one may often notice the gardeners shift their positions frequently while the same man is at bat. The center fielder can see the signal, and he tips off his fellow gardeners. The second baseman and shortstop flash the third and first baseman if these are unable to see for themselves.

Of course the catcher has to be guarded in his work. He must have several sets of signals at his command with which every one is familiar; otherwise a brainy opponent on second would get on to those signs and in turn tip off the various offerings to the man at bat. A catcher cannot use the same sign twice before a rival. Then, too, he must guard against the batsman peeking back to catch his code. That is why the backstop stoops in calling for balls. He covers the hands, which are used entirely for battery signals, with his glove.

NEW BALL AIDS BATTING.

Less Cork and More Rubber Cause of Big Scores and Extra Base Hits. The numerous big scores and extraordinary amount of extra base hits in the major leagues thus far this season have been the topics of comment among those baseball followers who keep an eye on the statistics of the pastime. Never before in the history of the game have so many extra base swats been in evidence as this season. And there is good and sufficient cause. There's a bigger chunk of rubber in the ball furnished the major leagues this year, and consequently there is more resilience. The magnates changed the inner workings of the globe to increase batting, and the change has wrought wonders. Home runs are plentiful, and there is twice the amount of distance hitting there was last year.

ADJOURNMENT IS UP TO SENATE

House Is Prepared to Remain Until December.

USUAL CUSTOM IS REVERSED.

Chairman Underwood Says Lower Branch Will Continue to Pass Tariff Bills and Send Them to the Republican Body—Finance Committee Witness Tells of Attempted Smuggling.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, May 26.—(Special).—The close of the session is up to the senate. The house will not propose a resolution of adjournment. "We will stay here as long as they want to pass our tariff bills," said Chairman Underwood of the ways and means committee. "If they pass them we will send them more; if they do not pass them they must take the responsibility of adjournment."

A resolution of adjournment sent to the house by the senate would be a notice that the senate did not propose to consider any more legislation, and we would have to accept that as a refusal to proceed with the program which we have outlined. The responsibility for closing the session must rest with the senate, where the Republicans are in the majority."

Reverses the Rule. Heretofore all resolutions for adjournment of sessions which did not end by constitutional limitation have come from the house. On one occasion, when Roosevelt called a special session before the regular session in December, neither house would propose an adjournment resolution, and the two sessions came bang up together. There was an effort to show that there was a period between the sessions in order to give the members mileage for the special session, but it failed.

In forcing the senate to propose the resolution of adjournment the usual method is reversed, but Underwood insists that the house will remain until next December before it will send an adjournment resolution to the senate.

A Border Incident.

A witness before the senate finance committee told this incident: "I was getting off a train at Rouse Point, on the northern border, when I happened to see a pair of very handsome lace curtains dropped, which seemed to come from very near a lady's clothing. She gave just one swift glance behind her and went on."

"I knew her to be one of the wealthiest women in the neighborhood. She did not stop, because there was a custom house officer right behind her, and he claimed the curtains. I think he knew where the property came from, but nothing was said because they were neighbors and it would have brought up a very unpleasant subject."

The words "Indians Not Taxed" have figured in every census report ever made. At present there are 71,832 such Indians in this country, and, strange as it may appear, there is none in Oklahoma. All the Indians of that state are citizens. The greatest number are in Arizona, where there are 24,120. These are the lowest type of Indians in the country at present. New Mexico has 10,318 untaxed Indians, Montana 9,715, South Dakota 8,212 and New York 4,680.

She Stopped Crying. Many years ago when there was a crisis in the nation a very estimable lady came to Washington to persuade prominent men to save the country. She knew Congressman Thomas Butler of Pennsylvania, and with him she called upon a number of men and pleaded her cause. At one hotel after talking with a prominent man the good lady was quite overcome and was weeping as she left.

Passing through the corridor, the Pennsylvania congressman and the lady, whooping quite copiously, passed Charlie Bennett, now secretary of the senate and then a member of the house from Brooklyn. "Tom, why don't you pay your washerwoman?" asked Bennett.

At that the weeping ceased. The good lady was more than indignant; she was mad clear through. It is not certain that she would not then and there have allowed the country to face its crisis without her help. At all events, she did not shed any more tears over the situation.

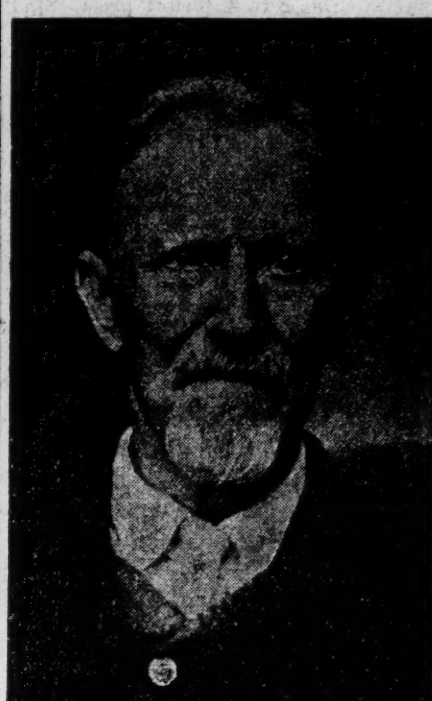

Geographical Mistakes.

It was an agricultural editor before the finance committee who "blushed to say" that President Taft had referred to the province of Assinibola, in Canada, when there was no such province, Assinibola having ceased to exist as a territory in 1905. But the mistake was also made by another great man, according to the editor. "Further," said he, "the senator from Indiana in a magazine article made himself ridiculous by the same mistake."

"Senator Beveridge, the former senator," interrupted Senator Bailey of Texas. The editor acknowledged that was what he meant, but it was evident that the feeling which for ten years existed between Bailey and Beveridge had not departed from the Texan with the departure of Beveridge from the senate.

Truth is Stranger than Fiction

THE FOLLOWING ALMOST CHALLENGES BELIEF

The above is a splendid likeness of Mr. John V. Van Atta, 503 DeWitt Street, Elmira, N. Y. This gentleman is nearly seventy years old, has been a resident of Elmira for nine years. He came to Elmira from Lock Haven, Pa.

Mr. Van Atta served in the Civil War for over three years under Generals Mead, Hancock, Sumner Burnside and Hooker.

Mr. Van Atta was a member of that furious band of fighters who were known all through the army as "The Second Corps." After his period of honorable and active service, Mr. Van Atta was discharged with high honors from General Couch's headquarters.

Mr. Van Atta has been active in Grand Army circles since his discharge and has taken a keen interest in the welfare of that glorious organization. The following is his own statement regarding his experience with the famous specialist, Dr. Daniel G. Carey, of Elmira, and his marvelous medicine, MARSH ROOT, and HIT Prescriptions.

EIMIRA, N. Y., Sept. 10 1910.

Dr. Carey Medical Corporation:—Gentlemen:

I want you to know, so that you will be able to tell the whole world, just what Dr. Carey and his wonderful medicines have done for me. I had been sick twenty-six weeks during which time I had eight physicians attending me and was in the hospital one week. Every one pronounced me incurable and gave me up to die; each of these physicians refused to call on me as they pronounced my case hopeless and said it was of no use as I had to die.

I was confined to my bed during this period and could hardly move hand or foot. As the last resort, during the twenty-seventh week of my illness, after having been given up to die by eight physicians and hospital attendants, my family called Dr. Carey, of Elmira, to see what he could do for me. Dr. Carey immediately discovered the cause of my trouble which no other physician was able to do.

Dr. Carey prescribed and used his celebrated MARSH ROOT and others of his famous "HIT" prescriptions with the result that I am now, after seven weeks of treatment by Dr. Carey, up and around; am able to dress myself and attend to my personal wants. I have been out riding several times doing my own driving.

I have called on Dr. Carey at his office several times and am on the highway towards complete recovery. My kidneys and bladder are acting perfectly, my blood is fast assuming its natural color and quantity. My appetite is strong and natural and instead of being in my grave, as everybody prophesied, I would be by this time, I am alive and on the highway towards renewed health, thanks to Dr. Carey and his wonderful medicines.

I want all the world to know the history of my case and I will cheerfully answer any correspondence regarding it and will testify at any time to the truth of the foregoing. My neighbors and friends pronounced my case indeed a miracle, and are ready to substantiate every thing I have said.

Extending the heartfelt thanks of not only myself, but by family, I am most gratefully yours.

NEW SEMI-PRECIOUS STONES

Apricotine From Delaware Bay and the Lake Superior Agates.

The so-called "Swiss lapis," so much shown by the gem dealers, is none other than a slightly porous Jasper artificially treated with Prussian blue. And this is by no means the only dyed stone, says a writer in Handicraft.

A very deep and permanent emerald green color is given to pale, translucent chaledony which was originally designed to imitate, or as a substitute for, chrysoprase, but has found favor and is much sought after on its own merits.

This is regarded as an entirely different stone from crysoprase, the beautiful apple-green variety of chaledony, whose name, indicating a golden look, was bestowed upon it by the ancient Greeks.

Plasma is another name for a darker green Jasper, of which the bloodstone of Indiana is a variety; although the plasma of lighter color (pale sage green and sometimes slightly tinged with a brownish lavender tint), is known as heliotrope, and this stone is very attractive, owing to its slight translucency and soft, neutral colors.

Who is not familiar with the well-known crocidolite or "tiger-eye," so popular in years gone by, and now enjoying something of a revival? The clearest effect of this gem is imparted by selecting the thin-cut, yellow stone, which should have considerable translucency, closely resembling the Ceylon crysberyl or precious catseye, but with which it is in no way related.

I believe it is safe to say that practically any stone that will allow cutting into the cabochon shape and will accept a high polish, showing some pleasing color or combinations of color, may well be termed a gem, and is thus quite suitable for a setting or a mounting.

Primarily, of course, among this class of stones are the quartzes, of which perhaps the latest-named is apocrotine, a beautiful, translucent, water-worn pebble found on many of our tide water or estuary beaches, although the best examples so far are from the shores of Delaware Bay in New Jersey.

This stone is of very rich pink, reminding one of a slice of ripe apricot, from which fact it takes its name, and when the pebble is polished it is worthy of fastidious treatment. Approached in color only by certain shapes of coral, it has this advantage of being richly translucent and oftentimes with a shimmering light somewhat similar to the aventurine.

Many new agates are now exploited, the commoner forms being the so-called

Lake Superior agates, but properly speaking there are the beautifully striped and interlineated little carnelian pebbles found upon the smaller lake beaches throughout the State of Minnesota and Wisconsin. These occur mostly in the reddish and pale pinks and sometimes in the darker blood red sards and are really very beautiful when due regard is given to the agatized lines by the skillful lapidist.

Pink amethyst, a North Carolina native gem, is a ferruginous quartz or, properly speaking, an amethyst with varying shades of the true amethystine violet alternating with a rich rose pink, the latter color being due to an admixture of iron satin, giving a peculiar and pleasing contrast of blended colors.

From the same state comes the comparatively well-known rutillated quartz, hair stone, and what was known in earlier days as "fleece d'amour," or "love's arrow," being a pellicular quartz, occasionally slightly amethystine, penetrated in various angles with thin black or red needlelike crystals of rutile.

The Difference.

"Here's where it is better to have a phonograph in the house than a woman."

"Where?"
"In this. You don't have to buy the phonograph a new hat every time the wind changes."

RUN-DOWN CONDITIONS

Their Cause and Effect.

Run-down conditions are caused by a lack of iron in the blood. If you are one of the unfortunate who have drifted into the state, change your diet, eat foods that are rich in mineral elements of nutrition, and take Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron tonic (with-out oil), which supplies iron to the blood in the most easily assimilated form.

A case is reported from Mattoon, Ill.—Mrs. O. M. Watrous was in very poor health for years. She was weak, all run-down, no appetite, and only weighed ninety-seven pounds. She had doctored for a long time without benefit. Vinol was recommended. She tried it, and in less than a year she was in perfect health and weighed 127 lbs.

Vinol creates an appetite, re-establishes perfect digestion and makes good, pure blood. In this natural manner it builds up the run-down, weak and debilitated, and replaces weakness with strength.

Try a bottle of Vinol with the understanding that your money will be returned if it does not help you. Faris-Klut Drug Co., Greensboro, N. C.

KITCHEN LORE

Sweet Sauce for Puddings.

Take about a pint of milk and a tablespoonful of flour, and mix to a stiff paste with a little of the milk. Sweeten the remainder of the milk with three teaspoonfuls of powdered sugar, flavor with lemon rind, and put it by the fire to heat. Pour the warm milk over the paste after straining the lemon rind. Put the sauce into an enameled saucepan and stir constantly until it thickens.

Chocolate Cream Sandwich.

Ingredients: Two ounces of flour, an ounce of chocolate powder, two ounces of castor sugar, two eggs, two ounces of butter, and two ounces of icing sugar. Method: Beat the eggs and castor sugar until light, add flour and chocolate powder, then bake in sharp oven. Beat butter and icing sugar until creamy; make a sandwich when cold.

Roulades of Mutton.

Cut some underdone or raw mutton into pieces about three inches long by one and a half inches wide, without fat. Season with pepper and salt and put a few capers in each piece, which then roll up and put on skewers. Place in the oven on a baking dish, with just enough water to cover, and bake for about an hour. Slip the roulades off the skewers, and serve with caper sauce and mashed potatoes.

Frosted Bread and Butter Pudding.

Prepare a custard with a pint of milk, two eggs, and sugar to taste. Cut three or four stale French rolls into thin slices and butter them. Besprinkle a pie dish with currents, and continue thus until the dish is full. Between each layer of bread pour a little custard. Bake in a moderate oven for about 20 minutes. Whisk up stiffly the whites of two eggs, add to it an ounce of icing of castor sugar, and pile this roughly on the surface of the pudding, as to give it a rocky appearance. Sprinkle over a few currants; dredge with castor sugar. Bake long enough to slightly brown the meringue, then send to the table dished up on a folded napkin or dish paper.

Economy While Cooking.

Have all cooking ready for the blaze before the burner is lighted. The burner may be extinguished a few moments before your cooking is finished and still retain heat enough for the purpose. At night turn off the stopcock between the stove and the main pipe to prevent waste. Never use a large burner when a small one will do. After your cooking has reached the boiling point, turn the gas down to a point which will keep it at that stage. A strip of asbestos pinned around a burner causes the heat to concentrate on the cooking instead of scattering it to the atmosphere. If you heat by stove, utilize the space under the fancy top for cooking.

When Will Greensboro People Learn the Importance of It?

Backache is only a simple thing at first; But when you know 'tis from the kidneys; That serious kidney troubles follow; That dropsy, Bright's disease may be the fatal end.

You will gladly profit by the following experience.

'Tis the honest statement of a sufferer who was cured.

Mrs. William Welborn, 720 S. Hamilton St., High Point, N. C., says: "At the time I began using Doan's Kidney Pills, I was suffering from kidney trouble in its worst form. The complaint had been coming on me gradually for three years. There was a constant ache in the small of my back and the kidney secretions were unnatural. I suffered from headaches and dizzy spells and I slept so poorly at night that when I got up in the morning, I was hardly able to drag myself about. Doan's Kidney Pills were so highly recommended to me that I finally gave them a trial and I cannot fully describe the complete change that took place. FINAL SESSION OF GREAT COUNCIL AT ELIZABETH CITY

Elizabeth City, May 26.—Closing one of the most important and enjoyable sessions in its history the 13th great session of the great council of the Red Men of North Carolina adjourned yesterday.

Shelby was selected by acclamation as the next meeting place. The greater part of the session was spent in hearing reports of committees. The finance committee reported affairs in excellent shape and recommended that the great chief of records be sent with expenses paid, each year to the great council of the United States.

By special resolutions the salary of the great chief of records was increased $200 per annum.

The special committee appointed to consider the proposition to remove the headquarters of the great chief of records, reported that inasmuch as it was a step of great importance, they recommended that the matter be referred to the great chiefs associated with the special committee, with instructions to make complete investigation and report findings, together with such recommendations as seem fit at next session of council.

This matter created greatest interest here as great chief of records Goodwin has made Elizabeth City headquarters for many years. The board of appeals reported that no matters had come before it during the year thus indicating peace and harmony in tribes throughout the state.

The following special committee was appointed to consider the advisability of the Great Council paying the expenses of representatives to sessions there of, report to be made at the next session: W. L. Stamey, E. A. Ebert, Ben. W. Taylor.

Impressive ceremonies were observed at the installation of the newly elected great chief by past great Inchoonee John W. Cherry, of Norfolk, acting Great Inchoonee.

Following the installation Great Sachem Leary made the following appointments: Great Saniap, R. F. Tuttle, Edenton, N. C.; Great Minshinewa, A. C. Garrett, Elizabeth City; Great Guard of Wigwam, H. H. Buckner, Burlington; Great Guard of Forest, J. W. Von Hoy, Statesville.

Judiciary Committee: W. E. Herndon, chairman, High Point; Dr. D. L. James, Greenville; E. T. Stewart, Washington.

Board of Appeals: Hennen Hughes, Graham, one year; J. L. Leary, Goldsboro, two years; Joseph E. Pogue, Raleigh, three years.

What a Druggist Sates.

There are Liver Syrups, Liver Pills and Dry Regulators, all too drastic and disagreeable and, while may give quick relief from one trouble, get you into worse often. Vick's Little Liver Pills are made right and always produce curative effect and have no taste—far superior to calomel for children and have no equal as Tonic Laxative.

The trouble with people who say just what they think is that they think such disagreeable things.

Do Ghosts Haunt Swamps?

No, Never. Its foolish to fear a fancied evil, when there are real and deadly perils to guard against in swamps and marshes, bayous, and lowlands. These are the malaria germs that cause ague, chills and fever, weakness, aches in the bones and muscles and may induce deadly typhoid. But Electric Bitters destroys and casts out these vicious germs from the blood. "Three bottles drove all the malaria from my system," wrote Wm. Fretwell, of Lucama, N. C., "and I've had fine health ever since." Use this safe, sure remedy only. 50c at Fariss-Klutznick Drug Co.

The Trouble With the Meat.

Stepping into a small restaurant, a grumpy old man demanded of the waiter a certain piece of meat he had in the show window.

"But," said the waiter, "we—"

"No buts," replied the old man. "You bring me what I ask for, or I won't get anything here at all."

Rather than lose a customer the waiter did as he was told, and, getting the piece of meat, took it back to be cooked.

After a long wait the meat was brought to the customer, who, instead of thanking the waiter, said: "Look here, young man, what is the matter with this meat?"

"Nothing is the matter with it, sir, except that the paint on it has formed a few blisters from the heat."

"Why, what do you mean by that?" asked the old man.

"Simply this," replied the waiter. Those pieces of meat you saw in the window were not made to eat. They were made for advertising purposes, but you insisted, sir, upon having one of 'em."

No Further Questions.

When a noted Irish orator was in America a few years ago he appeared at a meeting in St. Louis and delivered an address on the subject of "Home Rule for Ireland." There were 6,000 of his countrymen in the audience. At the close of his remarks the chairman asked:

"Would anyone like to ask the speaker a question?"

A man in the rear of the hall, who was evidently under the influence of liquor, arose and said:

"Will the gentleman tell us if there is any reason why the Irish should not be wiped off the face of the earth?"

Immediately pandemonium reigned. The disturber was attacked from every quarter. Calls of "Down with him!" "Let me get at him!" came from all directions.

Finally he was rescued by the policeman and, torn and bleeding and in an unconscious condition, was placed in an ambulance which had been called. Order was in a measure restored. While the audience could still hear the clatter of the ambulance and the sound of its going as it conveyed its burden to the hospital, the chairman said:

"Would anybody else like to ask a question?"

A Burglar's Awful Deed

In the Wake of the Measles.

The little son of Mrs. O. B. Palmer, Little Rock, Ark., had the measles. The result was a severe cough which grew worse and he could not sleep. She says: "One bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar Compound completely cured him and he has never been bothered since." Croup, Whooping cough, measles cough all yield to Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. The genuine is in the yellow package always. Refuse substitutes. For sale by Howard Gardner.

WARNING TO RAILROAD MEN.

E. S. Bacon, 11 East St., Bath, Me., sends out this warning to railroad men: "As conductor on the railroad, my work caused a chronic inflammation of the kidneys, and I was miserable and all pained out. A friend advised Foley's Kidney Pills and from the day I commenced taking them, I began to regain my strength. The inflammation cleared and I am far better than I have been for twenty years. The weakness and dizzy spells are a thing of the past and I highly recommend Foley's Kidney Pills."

FREE MILK FOR CITY BABES.

Chicago School Children Build Ice Boxes for Use of Poor.

Chicago, May 26.—At the direction of Mrs. Ella Flagg Young, superintendent of the Chicago school system, pupils in the public technical schools are building hundreds of simple ice boxes for the use of the poor, in the hope of reducing the high infant mortality of the tenement quarters in summer.

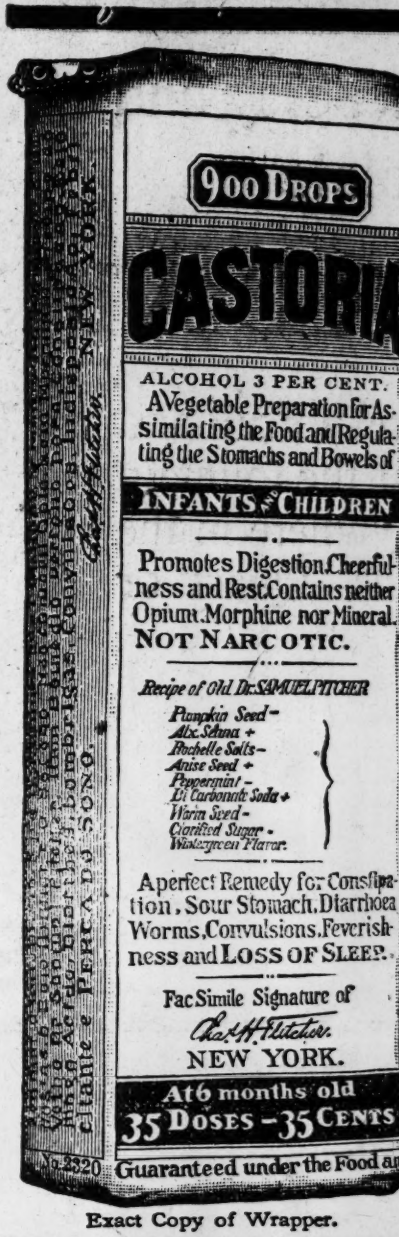

The ice boxes are intended principally for keeping milk which now will be distributed free by the county, as well as the necessary ice. Mrs. Young contemplates the construction of enough of these boxes in the manual training school to provide 3000 families with a means of keeping milk for the babies.

A 'CASCARET' MAKES YOU FEEL TIP-TOP

No Need of Days When You Are Not at Your Best—No Need of Headache, Biliousness, Dizziness or Bad Stomach.

Most of our dull days are due to inactive bowels. Nearly all of our minor ills could be avoided by a little candy Cascaret. Also, half of our greater ills. Isn't it foolish to suffer when there is such a pleasant way to avoid it? Cascarets save the hours. They save the time we waste if we are not at our best. They bring good cheer. For the blues and ill temper rarely occur when the bowels are properly helped. They make the breath sweet, the complexion clear, the eyes bright. All this for ten cents per week.

In the old days people let matters run until they needed a large dose of physic. Then they took something severe—like castor oil, salts or cathartics. That meant abuse to the bowels. These are the days of the gentle and natural—the days of Cascarets. Carry a 10 cent box always with you. For the right way to take them is one at a time—just as soon as you need it.

NEGRO ARRESTED IS CHARGED WITH BEING HIGHWAY ROBBER

Charlie Johnson, an ebony-hued individual, was arrested yesterday afternoon near Tabernacle church by Sheriff Jones and Deputy Weatherly on the charge of highway robbery. The negro was brought to Greensboro and lodged in jail pending a preliminary hearing this morning before Justice Collins.

The negro is charged with taking a dollar from the little son of Jesse DeVinney, who lives in that section. He does not deny his guilt. Ninety-five cents of the money was found in his possession and he stated that he purchased a pack of smoking tobacco with the missing nickel.

A traveling man at Julian had given the DeVinney boy a dollar to do a certain job for him. The negro had seen the boy pocket his money and as he drove home the negro asked permission to ride. Soon he began bantering the boy about a watch and told the lad that he did not have as much money as a dollar. The unsuspecting boy pulled his money from his pocket and the negro grabbed the money and jumped from the wagon. An alarm was given and Sheriff Jones telephoned. He communicated with Commissioner Boren, who ran down in his big car and Sheriff Jones and Deputy Weatherly hopped in. The auto made the trip to Tabernacle in record time. It was found, however, that the negro had already been detained at a house near Tabernacle church and he was brought back in Mr. Boren's auto. The robbery occurred near Julian and the people in that section were soon notified by means of the telephone. Everybody was keeping a sharp lookout and the news that the culprit had been caught was gladly received.

ERRORS IN OUTFIELD GAVE PATRIOTS VICTORY YESTERDAY

Anderson, May 26.—With errors figuring conspicuously and extra base hits the order of the day Greensboro won from Anderson 8 to 7. Both pitchers were touched up lively and the support of each was punk. A double muffed outfield fly and another double gave the leaders of the league the two runs in the eighth which won the game.

TWINS POUNDED HORSEHIDE ALL OVER LOT YESTERDAY

Winston-Salem, May 26.—By connecting with Vickory's delivery seventeen times for a total of 34 bases the Twins took the first of the series this afternoon 12 to 2. Swindell for the locals allowed but five hits, and was invincible until the seventh when Walker hit one over the fence.

Vickory was very ineffective and the bulk of the Twins' runs were earned. Four times did Clancy's bunch hit the ball out of the lot, O'Halloran getting two homers to his credit, Swindell and Schumaker one each. Edwards, the new catcher signed by Clancy, started his season here with three hits out of four times up, one of them being a three-bagger which started the scoring.

The fielding of both teams was only fair, except that the Twins showed up strong in the infield as usual. Gates made one phenomenal stop and recovery.

GREENVILLE WON BENEATH COVETED RAG OF LAST YEAR

Greenville, S. C., May 26.—Beneath the flying pennant which Greenville won last year under the leadership of Tommie Stouch, the locals won from last year's second team, Charlotte, by the score of 7 to 2. Before the game Acting Mayor Major Hard spoke and the Poe mill band played during the game. Cashion was in fine form and pulled out of several hard holes by striking out the last two men. Hankie yielded hits frequently, but until the latter part of the game Charlotte's fielding kept the runs down.

Greenville . . . 100 000 42x—7 13 3
Charlotte . . . 000 000 020—2 3 4

DONALDSON-WILSON GAME WAS 2 TO 0 BALL EXHIBITION

Fayetteville, N. C., May 26.—Although he allowed 8 hits and hit two batsmen, Farmer's excellent pinch pitching enabled him to shut out Donaldson and the game went to the Wilson High School, 2 to 0 this afternoon. McFall yielded but three hits, two of which were bunched, with an error and sacrifice. Creeks caught made while colliding with Pittman in the outfield featured. Huske of Donaldson, had 21 put outs at first and McFall 11 assists. All 5 errors were made by the short stops.

DIAMOND DUST

Where They Play Today.
Greensboro at Anderson.
Greenville at Charlotte.
Spartanburg at Winston.

We still rule the "roost."

Two or three more games and the Hornets will have Anderson rooted out from bottom place.

If the Hornets had been playing for limburger cheese these past few days they wouldn't be able to extract a small—Charlotte Chronicle.

Five on each side is entirely too many errors for one game.

Morrissey continues to win his games, though he had a close shave yesterday.

Baseball here all next week. First three days the Spartans will be our guests and the last three it will be the Twins.

It's up to the Patriots to win now or Winston-Salem will be on top in the percentage column.

Listen to this from the Charlotte Chronicle: "If the locals don't do any better at home than they did at Greensboro and Winston, they ought to be prosecuted for running a 'skin' game in charging admission to the grounds."

This, too, from the Chronicle: "Cross might improve the layout by substituting the high school team, just organized, for the present Hornets. They couldn't lose any more games, and they certainly wouldn't cost as much to operate."

For one, we do not blame the Charlotte fans for being sore. For three years they have stood by their club loyally, have given time, money and enthusiasm. Every year they have had a losing team, when their support and enthusiasm entitle them to have one of the winning teams—at least sometimes. One trouble with the Hornets has been the way they have of changing players so often, but this does not explain all of their misfortune. We think it would be hard to be loyal to a team that had been a tail-ender for three seasons.

COLUMBIA BANK IN VERY BAD CONDITION

Raleigh, May 26.—State Bank Examiner J. K. Doughton has gone to Columbia to take a hand in the adjustment of the tangle in the affairs of the Merchant's and Farmer's Bank, the cashier of which, R. M. Spruill, took his own life Tuesday when a special auditor procured by the directors went into the bank to make an examination.

It was only a few weeks ago that Examiner Doughton was there and went thoroughly into the books and papers and made demands upon the bank management for changes in the way of improvement of securities and more up-to-date condition of the books. The Corporation Commission has had no further word from the bank since the announcement from the President that the Cashier has suicided and that a special auditor was adjusting the books. One of the most serious conditions that the bank examiner found is understood to have been unsecured notes for considerable amounts by parties whose signatures have no commercial rating. A former President of the bank was found to be several thousand dollars overdrawn.

HETTY GREEN'S BIG DEAL.

Richest Woman Sells Tract of Chicago Land for Million.

Chicago, May 26.—Mrs. Hetty Green today sold for more than $1,000,000 a tract of Chicago real estate which she obtained in 1877, under foreclosure proceedings for $196,312.70. The tract is in the southwestern section of the city, entirely unimproved, and the purchasers, Cobe & McKinnon, will develop it into a business and residential district. The presence in the city of Colonel E. H. R. Green gives color to statements that Mrs. Green is to sell all her unproductive real estate holdings here and in other cities. The money, it is said, will be put into railroad and other securities not within the range of direct taxation. She still has $8,000,000 in Chicago real estate.

The Gage property was taken over by Mrs. Green from Sarah Gage 34 years ago on an unsatisfied mortgage, and since that time has lain idle, while the neighborhood has been developed and improved by others. She fought every proposed improvement, seeking to avoid additional taxation.

MAY "DOCK" GOV. WILSON.

Month's Pay May Go to Temporary Executive.

Trenton, May 26.—When Governor Wilson returns next Monday from his swing around the West he may find that he has been "docked" a month's pay. The opinion of the Attorney General has been obtained and it is to the effect that Senate President Ackerman, who has been acting Governor, coming to the capital every Tuesday and transacting such necessary business as came to him, is entitled to the pay, which amounts to $800 for the four weeks.

Senator Ackerman really doesn't need the money, having several millions of his own tucked away from his big cement business, but he thinks that his acts as temporary Executive cannot be fairly construed as legal unless he accepts the pay, for which the Constitution expressly provides. At all events, the check will not yet be made out, and it awaits the final decision of the Comptroller.

SOUTHERN'S PLANT DISABLED; CITY FURNISHES WATER

The Southern Railway is having some trouble with its pumping plant, which forces water from South Buffalo into the tanks in the yards for the use of engines and trains. Yesterday afternoon three passenger trains were standing in the yards helpless and the City had to come to the relief of the company by turning on the water. And this too in spite of the fact that general orders have been issued for all trains possible to get water at Burlington, Jamestown, Ridd and nearby points. This is easy for freights, but passengers have to come on in or lose valuable time. However, every effort is being made to get the pumping plant in first-class shape.

There is a most wonderful difference
between the genuine Porcelain
lined Refrigerator and the white enameled kind—

And it will pay you to investigate this difference

The Porcelain will last always and be the same, the white enamel will soon get soft and fall off. It will pay you to investigate before you invest. We have the Leonard Cleanable Porcelain kind, the ones that give satisfaction. Let us show them to you.
